Volunteer with MindLeaps Rwanda

Thank you so much for your interest in volunteering with MindLeaps Rwanda! Our programs in Kigali, Nyabihu, and the refugee camps will benefit from your experience and expertise. We are honored that you will share your time with us.

We are offering volunteering in Rwanda for a minimum of four weeks and a maximum of eight weeks, beginning July 11th, 2022. Project examples include academic tutoring, IT tutoring, and administrative support.

Again, we deeply appreciate your commitment as a volunteer. Be prepared to work on your volunteer projects at the Jim Bell Centre of MindLeaps Rwanda in Kigali from 8am-5pm five or six days per week. Evenings and weekends will be your free time. Staff will be available to guide you on projects during your work day, but volunteers should also be comfortable working independently.

You will have the phone numbers of the team at MindLeaps Rwanda, and they will always be available to help you in an emergency. The first two days will consist of in-field orientation, but please note that this is not a fully guided trip and international staff will not be on the ground during the entire time. Rwandan staff will not be able to schedule restaurant reservations, cultural outings, or accompany you on other activities not related to the volunteer projects. If you are interested in a cultural/historical, fully-guided tour of Rwanda, please request information about our one-week trip also taking place in July 2022.

Rwanda has recently been named the sixth safest country in the world and safest country in Africa for solo travelers (Business Insider). In accordance with COVID-19 guidelines, all travelers are required to provide a negative PCR test within 72 hours of their departure flight.

The hosting fee for this volunteer experience is $1,500 and covers your visa, a local phone, and airport pick up and drop off. It does not cover airfare, accommodations, medications, local transportation, meals or other incidentals.

We would be very happy to answer any questions that you may have or connect you with other previous volunteers to share their experiences. Thank you again; we look forward to seeing you in Rwanda!

Best wishes,

About Rwanda
Rwanda is a landlocked East African country whose green, mountainous landscape has earned it the nickname “Land of a Thousand Hills.” Its renowned Volcanoes National Park is home to mountain gorillas and golden monkeys.

Kigali is the nation’s capital city with a population over 1 million.

The country has made an incredible recovery and become an example of reconciliation following the 1994 Genocide Against the Tutsi.

VOLUNTEER IN RWANDA

Thank you for your interest in volunteering at MindLeaps Rwanda! On this trip you can volunteer for four to eight weeks in the summer. Your projects may work with students, trainers, or staff in academic, dance, or administrative projects depending on your skills and interests.

Who will you meet?
MindLeaps works with vulnerable youth living in extreme poverty. The youth change their mindset of survival and learn skills that are in demand in Rwanda’s labor force. This opens the way to employment and self-sufficiency. After completing MindLeaps’ program, many students are sponsored to join formal education. Throughout your time, you will meet youth who are at every stage of this life-changing journey. Through doing so, you learn about Rwanda and help in the fight against poverty.
About the 1994 Genocide Against the Tutsi:

- On April 6th, 1994, President Habyarimana’s airplane was shot down and this unleashed an organized campaign of extermination.
- Approximately 800,000 Tutsi and Hutu moderates died in 100 days.
- Approximately 250,000-500,000 women were raped.
- By July, the Rwanda Patriotic Force had predominantly liberated the country.
- Approximately 100,000 children were orphaned or abandoned.
- 26% of the population still suffers from PTSD.

“What happened in Rwanda happened to us all -- humanity was wounded by the genocide.”
– Immacuee Ilibagiza

“Nobody hates himself more than he who hates others.”
– Rwandan Proverb

MindLeaps Research

Working with Carnegie Mellon University Rwanda and Drexel University, MindLeaps has developed an analytical tool to measure the change in 7 cognitive and non-cognitive skills in vulnerable children through the MindLeaps' dance curriculum. These skills are considered critical for success in a formal classroom setting. Below is a typical graph showing the average change in these 7 skills in a class of 15 students over 20 weeks in the program. The seven skills measured on a scale of 1 to 7: memorization, language, grit, self-esteem, creativity & self-expression, discipline and teamwork & collaboration. [www.mindleaps.org/research]

History of MindLeaps

MindLeaps was founded in 2005 as a dance company with a focus on developing original, full-length contemporary ballets based on famous literary works, significant historical events, and modern social issues. In 2010, it underwent a mission change to reflect today’s international work serving children. The evolution of the MindLeaps model is the result of step by step research and development in the field, collaborating on projects beginning in 2009 in Bosnia-Herzegovina, Rwanda and Guinea. These earlier stages of endeavor allowed MindLeaps to test, refine and perfect its methodology – to build a model that worked. MindLeaps began work in Rwanda in 2010 under its former name, RDDC, and between 2011-13 partnered with FidesCo Rwanda (now Centre Cyprien et Daphrose Rugamba – CECYDAR) to administer a dance and IT program for vulnerable children in Kigali. After this proof of concept, the organization was ready to establish its own first permanent center in 2014. In 2014, the company changed its name to MindLeaps to better reflect the mission of the organization and the collective effort put forth every day to help advance children in need. Following MindLeaps’ work in Rwanda, MindLeaps began its expansion to other countries and opened permanent centers in Guinea and Uganda, and partnerships in Mauritania and North Macedonia. In 2021, MindLeaps served over 1,900 children annually and operated programs across 5 countries - Rwanda, Guinea, Uganda, Mauritania, and North Macedonia. In the next level of expansion, MindLeaps launched in the USA in 2022.
